Dear Dr. Mohr:

I'm answering your letter inasmuch as my mother, Renata Chiti, died five years ago.

In possession of the car, which was purchased new, for a year, it had done very few kilometers (mileage) when it was returned to the Ferrari dealer in order to purchase another type.

It did not have any accident (or damage whatsoever) and in fact, at the moment it was returned it was still to be considered "like new".

I don't know who the following owner was and I'm very sorry not to have any other information for you.

Sincerely,

Lorenzo Parenti
